

Harsco Environmental Renews Contract With North American Arm of Global Steel Company SSAB

July 6, 2021

- New 15-year contract ensures continuity for SSAB's Montpelier, Iowa, operation.
- SSAB takes advantage of Harsco Environmental's largest scope of service and end-to-end solutions in North America.

CAMP HILL, Pa., July 06, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Harsco Corporation (NYSE: HSC), a global market leader providing environmental solutions for industrial and specialty by-products, announced today that its Harsco Environmental (HE) division has successfully renewed a multi-year services contract with SSAB Americas at its operation in Montpelier, Iowa.

The new service contract began in January 2021 and includes slag handling, metal recovery and scrap management services. The renewed contract will last for 15 years, cementing HE as SSAB's preferred service provider since their partnership began in 1995. Globally, HE provides several services at SSAB facilities in Sweden, where services include slag handling and scrap management services. These services are directly linked to consistent/continuous steel production and are critical for plant operations.

"HE and SSAB have a shared vision of environmental sustainability, and we are proud to work in unison with SSAB to support these objectives now and well into the future," said Russ Mitchell, Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of HE. "Our scope of service at SSAB is the largest offered to the North American customer base, and the 15-year commitment provides long-term stability that we will continue to perform and produce high-level results for years to come."
